1. [REDACTED] Met with Dr. Roy Moor, Administrative Assistant to Senator William E. Proxmire/ [REDACTED]

During my lengthy conversation with Dr. Moor, I asked him if he thought Senator Proxmire was interested enough in the Agency to be receptive to an invitation to visit our headquarters for a briefing. Moor said that in view of Proxmire's other responsibilities, he was certain the Senator would not be interested in such an invitation on the ground that "what he doesn't know about he doesn't have to worry about." He said this was not to indicate in any way the Senator had any unfriendly attitude toward the Agency but rather that the senatorial responsibilities were in other areas.
